Important Considerations

Provide the officiant's name and contact information. Please note it is imperative that your officiant attend the event rehearsal and also arrive to the Festival on time on the day of your event.

- The Festival is an outdoor venue that also requires a significant amount of walking. All participants should be informed to dress appropriately for the weather, wear comfortable shoes, stay hydrated, and take any necessary medicines. Those with sensitivity to the sun should wear sunscreen and consider a hat for added shade. And skipping cologne and perfumes will assist with repelling bugs.
- The Festival is open rain or shine except in the rare occasion of extreme weather. If rain is in the forecast, the Festival's Venue Coordinator will work with you to implement a rain plan which, depending on the extent of rainfall, could mean moving the event under the covered reception tent, holding the event at an offsite location (with Festival entertainments), or postponing the event to a later time and/or date.
- Restroom Facilities – “Privies” at the Festival are port-a-johns that are serviced daily. Located at the port-a-johns are diaper changing stations and hand wash stations. Private spaces for breast feeding are available at First Aid.
- Communication – The act of effective communication plays a very important role in guaranteeing your event's success. The Festival's Venue Coordinator has compiled this packet to relay information to you and your Day-Of Coordinator in good faith that you and your Day-Of Coordinator are relaying this same information to all your event participants. Keeping all event participants well informed of the event plan helps them feel invested, will contribute to their overall enjoyment, and will guarantee a relaxing and fun event day.
